Why am I being charged by YouTube TV? {Customer Help Support}

You may be charged by YouTube +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} TV because your membership is set to automatically renew at the beginning of each billing cycle. An unexpected charge can also happen after a free trial ends, if +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} you have paid add-ons or premium networks, because of changes in applicable taxes,+1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} or if the charge is actually a temporary authorization rather +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} than a completed payment. YouTube recommends checking your membership and payment history to identify the exact charge. If you do+1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} not recognize the transaction, YouTube says YouTube +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} TV charges generally appear on statements as GOOGLE*YouTube TV, and unauthorized charges can be reported through +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} its support process.

+1 (866) 381-7244

1. Why did YouTube TV charge me after my free trial?
A YouTube TV free trial can +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} result in a charge when the trial ends and the membership becomes paid. +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} YouTube also explains that some users may see a temporary authorization hold when starting a trial. This hold is used to verify the payment method +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} and may not be an actual completed charge. If you believe +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} you were charged incorrectly, review your +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} payment history and contact YouTube TV support.

2. Why is my YouTube TV bill higher than expected?
Your bill can be higher because of +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} paid add-ons, premium networks, or changes in applicable taxes. YouTube TV's billing information explains that tax rates can change based on local requirements,+1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} which may cause the monthly amount to fluctuate. Review your receipt or Google Payments transaction details to see the +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} individual charges and taxes included in the total.

3. Why am I being charged for YouTube TV after I canceled?
If you canceled YouTube TV after a +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK}+1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} new billing period had already started, the +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} cancellation generally stops future renewals rather than +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} automatically reversing the current payment. YouTube +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} TV says that after cancellation, access normally continues until the +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} end of the current billing period and that it does not provide refunds or credits for partial billing periods.

4. What should I do if I don't recognize a YouTube TV charge?
First, check whether another family member +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} or someone with access to your Google account made the purchase. YouTube says a YouTube TV transaction generally appears on a +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} statement as GOOGLE*YouTube TV. If you +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} confirm that the charge came from YouTube and was not authorized by anyone you know, you can report it to YouTube's support team. YouTube says unauthorized +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} charges should be reported within 120 days of the transaction.

5. Can I get a refund for an unexpected YouTube TV charge?

You can request a refund, but approval +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} depends on the circumstances. YouTube TV +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} states that it generally does not provide refunds or credits for partial billing periods, although certain situations may qualify for a refund. If you were charged through +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} a third-party provider, that provider's refund policies may +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} apply. You can use the official YouTube TV support process to +1 (866) 381-7244 {US/UK} review your billing issue and request assistance.